Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N. Y. — "I was in bad health but there didn't seem to be any one thing the matter with me. I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and could not sleep nights and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly everyone around me knew of my medicine and wanted me to try it, so at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as it would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like." — Mrs. CHAS. BAKER, 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N.Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know because they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?

Knitted Dress Wins Approval

Both Suit and Blouse of This Material Now May Be Very Elaborate.

EMBROIDERIES ARE IN FAVOR

Chinese Decorations, Including Colorings, Are Used—Many Jersey Suits Trimmed With Borders in Angora Effect.

Interesting developments are taking place in knitted dresses—developments which have caused them to assume characteristics of the best models in cloth or silk.

The prolonged vogue for crepe de chine became very tiresome. The run on one fabric was too great. It was necessary, declares a fashion writer in the New York Tribune, to think of ways of interesting the public in other formerly had in sport clothes but in the shades that might be chosen for afternoon dresses.

We have the knitted suit consisting of a skirt and Russian blouse, the costume consisting of a knitted sweater very often in Russian blouse style, and skirt of plain jersey, the straight-line knitted dress trimmed with knitted bands in a strikingly contrasting color from the frock itself and very intricate in pattern, and the dress with a cape to match.

One model which is proving immensely popular is of dark gray silk, relieved by a fancy woven pattern in a rusty copper tone intermingling with black.

Another knitted suit is developed in navy blue and gray. It has the wide sleeves, the skirt panels and all the touches that would be required by a smart tailored suit whether it be developed in woven or knitted fabric.

Chinese Theme in Evidence.

Black jersey, with Chinese embroideries in yellow and white, features prominently in some models. Knitted fiber bands on wool jersey suits and blouses are seen. The Chinese theme runs through the embroidery. If the design is not Chinese, then Chinese colorings are used.

A novelty of one maker is called sporting domino. It is a white wool sweater suit with a domino design embroidered in deep green. The shawl collar, girdle and cuffs are of the same vivid hue.

Another well-known sports-wear house is showing many wool jersey suits trimmed with borders in angora effect called laine grates.

In suits of knitted fabrics, a number of which are being made up for the new season, the French eschew the conservative skirt and coat type, preferring those of the skirt and jumper overblouse sort, or a skirt and sweater, the sweater in Russian blouse style.

Most interesting suits consist of a skirt and a high-necked sweater open at the front in coat style and belted about the hips in Russian blouse effect. These will play a prominent part in the country wardrobe for the spring, and will be worn in the mountains in the summer. Striking are the colors seen in such suits.

Combination of Colors. There are rich yellows combined with blacks, or yellow may be combined with blue. Or a suit may be of white, striped with yellow or Chinese blue, or entirely of the yellow and blue. There are beautiful tones of lavender, mauve and violet and a charming blue green. A real achievement in the art of dyeing is seen in the color, the gray and the brown shades, which are very rich in tone.

A prominent designer, who is always expected to develop something new in sport clothes for the St. Moritz and Riviera season, has had great success with the simple dress having a matching cape. One of the smartest models recently brought out is a two-piece blouse dress of white wool kasha, which has a cape trimmed with a broad fur collar in straight band style.

Indications point to an extensive use of cotton dresses. Whether France is presenting cotton fabrics owing to the high cost of raw silk and the difficulty of competing in fabrics of that kind is a moot question. But the fact remains that Paris manufacturers are busily engaged on cotton dresses for export in large quantities.

The favorite is a crepe which has come into prominence since it has been taken up by the Paris dressmakers. A year ago everybody was asking for crepe de chine, crepe georgette and cotton voile. Now the vogue has turned to crepe roumaine.

Ornamentation Much the Same

Ornamentation is much the same on these dresses as it was on voile dresses last summer. Cotton crepe dresses are being hand-drawn, decorated with hand and machine embroidery and with fine cut steel and crystal beads in all colors. One of the most interesting novelties is the cashmere colored head which lends itself beautifully to the Oriental patterns now creeping into the embroidery designs.

The Russian influence is noted in many of the new designs in cotton dresses. This means the low belt and the full sleeve. In dresses of this type sleeves are very wide and many of them short. The ornamentation is done with a distinctly Russian feeling concentrating on bands and motifs rather than appearing in the scattered all-over designs of last season.

Every indication points to the crepe roumaine dress, despite its comparatively low price, remaining in the novelty class. The mills in France have not produced enough of this material to take care of the sudden demand. Manufacturers of dresses and blouses will, therefore, be much retarded in their quantity deliveries. This will mean that the shops cannot have these dresses in any great quantity before midsummer.

Cotton crepes are in beautiful shades such as are not often seen in wash materials. The beige and gray tones are remarkable. One expects beautiful bright hues in wash fabrics, and while the usual pink and blues are seen little attention is paid to them because of the impression created by the stronger colorings. Many of the colors resemble the brilliant hues of a sunset in the autumn.

In the new cotton crepe frocks color is paramount. When white crepes are used color is unstintingly applied by means of embroideries and beads. Strange to say, few separate girdles are used on these dresses, their makers relying on the embroidery or bead work to produce the effect of a belt or girdle about the hips. Very often the dress hangs perfectly straight and is belted, but there is always a band of embroidery where a belt ordinarily would be placed.

Let not him who is homeless pull down the house of another, but let him labor diligently to build one for himself.—Abraham Lincoln.

THE DAILY MEAL

An unusual way of serving potatoes provided by the following recipe:

Potato Timbales.—Wash and boil potatoes with their jackets on in boiling water well salted. Cool and peel, chop and season with salt and pepper and moisten with cream. Brush timbale molds generously with butter and sprinkle with soft breadcrumbs, using none of the crusts. Pack into the mold the potato mixture, place in a dish and put into a hot oven until the crumbs are well browned. Remove to a serving dish and garnish with sprigs of parsley.

Imperial Salad.—Wash scraps and chop celery to measure one-half of a cupful. Add an equal measure of chopped pineapple. Soak one and one-fourth tablespoonsful of gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of cold water five minutes and dissolve in one-fourth of a cupful of boiling water. Strain and add to the first mixture, then add one-fourth cupful each of vinegar and sugar, two-thirds of a cupful of canned pineapple sirup and one tablespoonful of lemon juice with a few grains of salt. Turn into individual molds dipped in cold water and chill thoroughly. Remove from the molds to nests of crisp lettuce and accompany with mayonnaise dressing.

Fruit Salad Dressing.—Beat two eggs until very light, add gradually three tablespoonsful of melted butter, beating well, three tablespoonsful of lemon juice and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until it thickens. Add one cupful of heavy cream beaten stiff, one-fourth of a cupful of powdered sugar, one-half teaspoonful each of celery salt, vanilla and a few dashes of cayenne, three drops of onion juice and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of paprika. Chill thoroughly.

Somerset Sandwiches.—Mix one-half cupful of canned shrimps, one-half cupful of cold cooked chicken livers, one-half red pepper and one-half of a Bermuda onion, both chopped. Force through a meat chopper. Season with salt and pepper, moisten with mayonnaise and spread on thin slices of buttered bread. Cut in fancy shapes.

Raisin Puffs.—Beat two eggs until very light, add one cupful of sugar, a little salt, one cupful of sour cream to which one-fourth of a teaspoonful of soda has been added. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, then add three cupfuls of flour, sifted well with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, then stir in one cupful of raisins cut in halves. Mix well and bake in gem pans.

"O, would that we knew what these little birds feel Of beauty the whole day long. That they cannot refrain from telling their joy In blissful, tumultuous song, Welling up from their hearts in a constant flow, So great is the ecstasy which they know."

WAYS TO SERVE GREENS

Wash watercress in salted water, heap on a salad plate and decorate with radish tulips. Cut the radishes in the form of flowers. Serve with mayonnaise dressing in the center.

Cream of Sorrel Soup.—Take two cupfuls of sorrel, two cupfuls of rice or vegetable stock, two cupfuls of milk, two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour, one teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of paprika. Cook the sorrel in very little water until tender, mash through a sieve and add to the boiling stock and milk. Cook the butter until bubbling hot, add the flour and seasonings and mix all together until well cooked and hot.

Mustard Greens With Bacon.—Cook mustard greens until tender, chop fine. Fry bacon and put over the top of the greens. Add four tablespoonfuls of flour to the fat in the pan and cook until well mixed. Add two cupfuls of rice or vegetable stock, season with salt and red pepper and cook for ten minutes. Add the sauce to the greens, mix well before placing the bacon on top. Chop one hard-cooked egg and sprinkle over the greens. Serve with hot boiled hominy.

Dandelion Soup.—Cook dandelions in rice stock until very tender. Drain, wash through a sieve, add to two cupfuls of stock thickened with two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour to bind, season well and serve hot.
